常玉風鈴

SANYU Wind Chime

"Plum Blossom" is a painting that combines the unsophisticated elegance of Chinese paintings and the bright vivid color characteristic of Western paintings. Multi-colored overlays are used to create an exquisite sense of space. Antler-like stems stand still in the center of the picture, enlivening the plum blossoms and the bird.

"Beijing Circus" is Sanyu's deeply hidden memory of his hometown. Two circus horses dance vividly and rigorously in a boundless, golden field, expressing his nostalgia. Authorized by The National Museum of History, Dionysus artcrafts, inserted the simple and unadorned "Beijing Circus"
